Former CCCS Chairman honoured by Government

By: Leota Marc Membrere

Devoting your life to do God's work is an honour many people admire, and for former Congregational Christian Church of Samoa (CCCS) Chairman, Rev. Tautiaga Senara his spiritual life is one that many wish to follow.

And his devotion to God has been acknowledged by the Government of Samoa with his receiving the Order of Merit.

Hailing from Poutasi Falealili and Vaitele Uta, the 75-year-old retired Reverend's journey and service spans years starting from his village of Poutasi.

His secondary level education commenced at Poutasi before he moved on to one of Samoa's top school's Samoa College.

By 1967, Rev. Senara was granted a scholarship from the Government of Samoa to study in New Zealand, but his blessings with scholarship opportunities did not end there, he later won another scholarship from the church to study

Samoa's weightlifting guru honoured

By Jasmine Netzler-lose

The writing was on the wall for Tuaepepe Asiata Jerry Wallwork to take Samoa's weightlifting fraternity to the world and international stages.

And with no great surprise, Samoa's Weightlifting Guru has done more than that and has served an audible message to the international weightlifting circle, to be very weary when competing against locally trained competitors.

For his undisputable role as the most successful coach in single sports competition in Samoa, Tuaepepe was awarded the Officer of the Order of Samoa by the Government.

Tuaepepe has been behind the countless developments

Gatoloaifa'ana- the education stalwart

By: Nanai Taofiga Laveitiga Tuiletufuga

Retirement does not exist in Gatoloaifa'ana Tilianumua Afamasaga's vocabulary.

Revered for her role in building the foundation and creation of a teacher's training frame, Tili as she is popularly known at 76 years old is still reporting for duties.

Today she is the Education Commissioner with the Public Service Commission.

Gatoloaifa'ana holds a Masters from Macquarie University (1994) complemented by a B.A Dip.Ed (1978) also from the same institution.

In 1971 Gatoloaifa'ana returned home from the Christchurch Teachers College with a Diploma in Teachers.

that has led to an accolade of achievements and successes of the sport and sportsmanship in the country and at the international front over the past few years.

He is a true non-conformist who did not allow how the community weighed the sport to get in his way from building it to what it is today.

One of the sports that brings in the most medals, gold or otherwise for Samoa, Tuaopepe's passion and commitment has reflected well on the many athletes and lifters he has produced over the years.

Gold medalists such as the likes of

- Ele Opeloge
- Opeloge brothers Niu Sila and Don
- Mary Opeloge
- Feagaiga Stowers

Today, Tuaopepe continues to make a breakthrough in the sport and its standards despite the Samoa Weightlifting Federation (S.W.F.) in want of more funding to further develop the sports and athletes.

One of the most recent achievements for the Federation is having overseas lifters come to Samoa to use the weightlifting gym at Tuanaimato as a training hub for the teams for the up-and-coming Pacific Games and the Olympic Games 2024 in Paris, France.

Initiated by Tuaopepe as facilitator of the trainings, in April this year weightlifters from five different Pacific nations were already in Samoa utilising the training facilities, training with Samoan lifters already making names on the international front.

Tuaopepe is hopeful that more nations would take up the opportunity before the end of the year, including China and Russia.

The international group of men and women lifters are from the Republic of Mashall Islands, Kiribati and Tuvalu with Australia also expected to be coming over for the same reasons.

Tuaopepe claims the initiative will upgrade the standard of Samoa's weightlifter' performances as the facility will be treated as the Oceania Centre of Weightlifting High-Performance training.

His passion in the sport stems from being the son of weightlifting sensation Seiuli Paul Wallwork.

He also has many achievements of his own to reflect his commitment and dedication to sports in general.

Tuatagaloa Annandale-Actions speak louder than words

By Nanai Taofiga Laveitiga Tuiletufuga

Samoa has consistently been one of the top three suppliers of labor under New Zealand's Recognized Seasonal Employer (RSE) scheme since its introduction in April 2007.

And among the first group of seasonal workers deployed included a team from Poutasi Falealili organised by Tuatagaloa Joe Annandale.

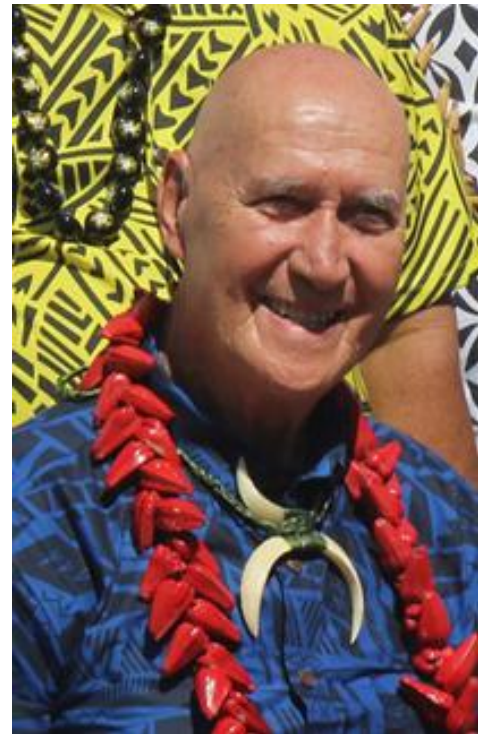

From there, the seasonal employment has boomed to be the sole livelihood for thousands of Samoan families with deployment numbers in the neighborhood of thousands per season heading to New Zealand and Australia.

And Falealili Poutasi has reaped the fruits of Tuatagaloa's employment creation innovation.

Tuatagaloa saw the employment opportunities in 2006 and created Falealili Seasonal Work Program.

And a year later, the first group from Poutasi landed in New Zealand under the RSE program.

Since then, the RSE success stories not only from Falealili but nationwide is overwhelming.

Brother Kevin O'Malley –The Educator Stalwart

By: Jasmine Netzler-Iose

Brother Kevin O'Malley is no stranger to the Marist Brother teaching fraternity.

He has dedicated over 2 decades of his teaching career to educating Samoa's future leaders.

And the list of his former students speaks volumes.

They include;

- Late Chief Justice Patu Tiava'asu'e Falefatu Sapolu
- Former Associate Minister of Women, Community and Social Development, Salausa Dr John Ah Ching
- Retired Chief Executive Officer for the Samoa Life Assurance Corporation, Lealaialoto Aniseto Chan Ting to name a handful.

His impeccable tautua to the education of Samoa's future leaders has not gone unnoticed by Government.

He is one of the 15 recipients acknowledged by Government in the Honours and Awards 2023 Banquet held on May 31st to conclude the 60 Independence Year Long Celebrations.

He was awarded with the Order of Merit for his various contributions to education and sport in Samoa through his service as a Marist Brother educator.

Brother Kevin arrived in Samoa in 1968 where he served as Principal and teacher at St Joseph's College at Lotopa, the original school headquarters before it was moved to Alafua.

He was there for 7 years before taking up a position as Deputy Principal and Teacher at the St Paul's College at Ponsonby, Auckland a year later.

In 1979 he was called to take up the role of Director of Catholic Education for American Samoa and Samoa, a position he held until 1984.

During his role as Director of Catholic Education, Brother Kevin has been well reported in the media for his contribution towards the establishment of the University Preparatory Year (UPY) currently foundation year at the National University of Samoa as well as his input to which enabled Government financial assistance to be provided to Catholic schools in the country.

Brother Kevin, however could not avoid his skills in teaching, since he was called back to serve at St Joseph's College from 1985 until 1986, and from 1990 to 1993 he was Deputy Principal, before two separate stints as Principal, one in 1992 and the second time during this period from 1995 to 2000.

Today, he is currently back to his teaching position, this time training the teachers of St Joseph's College while also holding the position of secretary of the school.

Brother Kevin is originally from New Zealand and has been a Marist Brother for over 60 years.

He also served in various other schools and positions associated to education in Kiribati, American Samoa and New Zealand.

Sister Emanuela receives Order of Merit Award

By Eirenei Ariu Toleafoa

It would have been amiss if the Government did not recognize 87-year Sister Emanuela Betham, with the Missionary Sisters of the Society of Mary (SMSM), for her distinguished services of dedication to Samoa and her people.

On May 31st to conclude the 60th Independence Celebrations Sister Emanuela's silent but worthy service to Samoa was recognized with the Order of Merit by the Government.

For 60 plus years, her career in the Government Central office started in 1952.

She was the first Samoan principal for St Mary's College at Vaimoso from 1976 to 1981.

But she continued to serve the Catholic schools at Savalalo as well as Vaimoso until retirement in 2021.

When the SMSM's Moamoa facility was completely damaged by hurricanes Ofa and Valelia, Sister Emanuela requested assistance from Rome in order to construct a new structure.

In 1994, the building was formally opened funded by the Vatican in Rome.

Sister Emanuela Betham's relentlessness in standing up for her colleagues in Samoa has made it possible for the SMSM sisters to be deployed in Rome.

She is currently residing at Vailoa, the home that was built specifically for elderly nuns, and this was one of the activities she requested assistance in order to fund and with the help of her family.

while he was employed by the Ministry of Work's Land Survey Office.

He later returned to New Zealand to continue his education and it was there he took the first exams ever initiated there for entrance into the Malua Theological College, marking the start of his service to his church.

In later years of his life, Rev. Senara continued to show his commitment to his church and God by serving as a teacher at the Malua Theological College for 5 years, and then moving up the ranks to the Vice-Principal of the Theological College for 3 years.

After educating the multitudes at the Theological College, Rev. Elder Senara took on the role of Failautusi Au Toeaina for a decade.

He was then chosen as the Reverend for the CCCS Matautu Falelatai where he served for 25 years, and had taken on the role of Toeaina o le Pulega Falelatai & Samatau, and Toeaina Faatonu Matagaluega Aana during his many years of service.

His service also included representing the country and church at the Pacific Council of Churches meeting, World Council of Churches, and National Council of Churches meeting in Samoa.

The Rev. Elder was then chosen to be the Deputy Chairman of CCCS, and then led the biggest denomination in Samoa when he served as CCCS Chairman for 4 years, succeeding Rev. Elder Tunumoso Iosia.

2019 marked his retirement and now he currently resides in New Zealand and attends the CCCS Papatoetoe.

He is a teacher at the Malua Bible Study at Manukau, Auckland to this day.

Luaipou Sally Betham a retired nurse

Luaipou Sally Betham honoured for her many years of service towards the development of health in Samoa. Photo: Taunuuga Toatasi.

By Jasmine Netzler-Iose

Luaipou Sally Betham's nursing career started at a time where Samoa's needs for health professionals and resources was in dire straits.

But the young Vaimauga nurse from Matautu-uta was committed to serve Samoa by playing her part. And she did not fail to meet the expectations of her peers.

For her sacrifices, contributions and achievements Luaipou was presented the Officer of the Order of Samoa Award during the Governments' 2023 Honours and Awards Ceremony on May 31st.

Although retired, the 89-year-old of Matautu-Uta' many years of service and contribution towards health in Samoa particularly in the area child vaccinations is well noted.

She spent her early education at the Aoga Tulaga Lua at Moataa and then in 1947 at Malifa Girls School before leaving Samoa for New Zealand on scholarship to Wairarapa College which she attended from 1949 to 1952.

In the following year of 1953 until 1956, Luaipou again on scholarship attended Nursing School in Auckland New Zealand.

Her first nursing intern posts were executed in 1957 at Greenlane Hospital and Middlemore Auckland Hospital.

Following her successful studies, she entered into Nursing at the Ministry of Health. Her dedication and commitment to further upskilling of her knowledge had her take up training opportunities that came her way with: WHO, UNPD and other organisations.

Her passion however for learning and building further knowledge in her profession saw her return to school. Luaipou attended Calcutta Medical College in India where she obtained a Postgraduate Diploma in Public Health and Hygiene.

It was during this period from 1960 -1961 that Luaipou officially met the British Royals. But, her most unforgettable take away from this opportunity was first-hand experience of the health and living conditions in India at the time.

Upon return she served at both the district hospitals in Upolu and Savaii superficially with children under the vaccination program.

Luaipou was also Matron Public Health Nursing/District Health of the nurses at Tuasivi when Afioga Malietoa Tanumafili II officially opened that district hospital.

In 1967 she undertook further studies for her Postgraduate Studies in Health at the East West Centre in Honolulu, Hawaii. Again, in 1972 she travelled to St Helens Hospital in Auckland, New Zealand where she carried out her studies for her Postgraduate Certificate in Midwifery.

Luaipou moved into the Ministry of Health where she worked until 2007, she was also former president for the Samoa Family Health Association, and served as soroptimist, and continued.

In her religious service to the Protestant Church in Apia, Luaipou was the first female Deacon of her church, and continues to serve today in this capacity.
